

From long announcement to role-safe event records

The model selects and organizes document-visible spans instead of freely inventing role values.

Pending multi-seed and backend-cross-check results are intentionally left as placeholders in the manuscript.